

THE BUM DOCTOR'S TALE OF A COLONOSCOPY

Oh the time has come, the day you fear
Yes it's time that I look in your rear
A colonoscopy is the procedure's name
Anyone 50 or over is fair game
Why is it needed, oh you want an answer
Well it's to look for and remove polyps, to prevent colon cancer
The test is a breeze because you're asleep
It's prepping your colon which makes you weep
Yes the colon cleanse is quite the chore
But it must be clean for Dr. Rosenfeld to explore.
The laxative has many nasty flavors one is lemon-lime
If used in an interrogation it would be considered a war crime
You drink so much liquid you soon choke it down
You look in the mirror, yes your eye balls are brown
The laxative you drink makes your intestines rumble
You'll rush to the toilet and pray you don't stumble
You'll crap and you'll crap and you'll crap some more
You'll go so much you'll nearly crap on the floor
In and out of bed you get little sleep
It's 6am and your alarm goes beep, beep, beep.
You stand for a while to make sure you're all done
Because crapping in your car will not be fun.
You arrive at the location ready for the fun to start
Oh no not again, whew it was just a fart.
You have the procedure with an anesthesiologist at your side
So when you wake up you still have your pride
You see, a small look in your rear was actually a misquote
I look in so deep I'll see the back of your throat
When the 6 foot long tube is removed from your rump
It's time to pass all that gas in your colon that I did pump
In recovery I will show you the pictures I took
So you can scan them to post on Facebook
Yes the world will know that you are brave
And the more people you tell the more lives you may save!
